

CONTENTS

Foreword	v
by William F. Wertz, Jr.
Poetry and Agapē : Reflections on Schiller and Goethe	xix
by Helga Zepp-LaRouche Chairman, Schiller Institute
POETRY	1
DRAMA
Wilhelm Tell	59
The Parasite, or, The Art of Self-Advancement	179
HISTORY
What Is, and to What End Do We Study, Universal History?	253
The Legislation of Lycurgus and Solon	273
The Mission of Moses	307
The Jesuit Government in Paraguay	331
AESTHETICS
On Grace and Dignity	337
On Matthisson's Poems	397
On Bürger's Poems	421
Of the Aesthetic Estimation of Magnitude	437
From the Aesthetical Lectures (1792–93)	459
Kallias , or, On the Beautiful	482
On Schiller and the Course of His Spiritual Development	527
by Wilhelm von Humboldt

POETRY

From the Anthology of 1782

To the Spring	5
Hymn to the Infinite	6
Flowers	7
The Plague	8

1782–1788

The Conflict	9
Resignation	10

1788–1805

The Famous Wife	14
The Proverbs of Confucius	19
Pegasus in Yoke	20
The Playing Boy	23
Ideals	24
Dignity of Women	27
The Veiled Image at Saïs	29
The Philosophical Egoist	31
To a Young Friend, As He Dedicates Himself to Philosophy	32
The Guides of Life	33
The Maiden from Afar	34
Ceres' Lament	35
To Emma	39
The Maiden's Lament	39

Wilhelm Tell	40
The Song of the Bell	41
Thekla. A Spirit-Voice	54
The Youth at the Brook	55
Dithyramb	56